DWWC Members and Fellow Citizens of Wake County North Carolina United States of America

It is my distinct honor and privilege to address you as the President of the Democratic Women of Wake County (DWWC). Our organization has been steadfast in its commitment to promoting democratic values, advocating for women's rights, and actively participating in the political process.

As we stand at the crossroads of our civic duty, I am writing to underscore the crucial importance of voting and civic engagement. Voting is not just a right; it is the cornerstone of our democracy. It is a powerful expression of our collective voice and a fundamental tool for shaping the future of our community, our state, and our nation.

In every election, we face a choice that extends beyond party lines. When we choose not to vote, we inadvertently pass the responsibility to others, potentially allowing decisions to be made that may not align with our values. It is essential to recognize that abstaining from voting does not merely withhold our support; it can inadvertently contribute to the empowerment of opposing ideologies.

Our democratic process is a continuous journey that extends far beyond election day. To effect real change, we must be engaged 365 days a year. Engaging with elected officials, staying informed about policy issues, and participating in community initiatives are ways we can ensure our voices are consistently heard.

As members of the Democratic Women of Wake County, we share a common purpose in championing inclusivity, equality, and justice. Let us remain united in our commitment to creating positive change, not just during election seasons but every day. Our collective efforts, conversations, and actions contribute to the growth and evolution of our community, forming the foundation for future electoral successes.

I am confident that, together, we can foster a vibrant and engaged community that serves as a beacon of democracy. Thank you for your unwavering dedication to the values we hold dear, and I look forward to continuing this journey with each and every one of you.

Yours in service,
Sharon
